Known gangsters were being rounded up by the police today in an effort to clear the mystery of the killing of Michael McNamara, known also in the underworld as "The Shamrock," who was found dead with two bullet wounds in his head and two in his back, at 8:30 o'clock last night, in the middle of a three-room flat at 2529 Glasgow avenue, where he had been living for the last month. McNamara had been arrested here in connection with gang affairs and had served prison terms in two Western penitentiaries as a safe-blower.

Search is being made for a blond woman who lived in the same flat and who had not been seen there since last Friday. McNamara was known there as E. N. Cox, and neighbors knew the woman as Viola.

Arrested on Election Day.
McNamara was arrested on primary election day, March 11, on a charge of illegally voting at the Fifth Ward, Tenth Precinct, polling place, 1816 Franklin avenue. It was alleged he had no right to vote, as he was an ex-convict whose citizenship had not been restored. He was under indictment and on bond at the time.

Patrolman James Hines, of the Dayton Street District, was at Glasgow avenue and Benton street about 8:30 last night when Mr. and Mrs. George Hollweg of 2603 Glasgow avenue, told him they had heard shots a few minutes before this in the McNamara flat. The policeman went there and found McNamara dead.

Four Bullet Holes in Body.
McNamara was lying face down on the floor. There were two bullet wounds in the back. One of the bullets, a .45-caliber automatic, had gone through his body and was found on the floor. Two others had struck him in the back of the head toward the right side.

The Hollwegs said they saw two men drive up to the house in an automobile and stop. The men remained in the machine and the engine was kept running. As the automobile stopped they heard in the kitchen the body and was found on the floor. Two others had struck him in the back of the head toward the right side.

Food and dishes on the table showed that two persons had eaten there. This led the police to believe that McNamara had been shot by someone who had been his guest for supper. It was thought that McNamara arose to go to the front of the house when he heard the automobile stop and his guest followed him from the kitchen and shot him in the back and then escaped in the automobile.

A further inspection of the house this morning showed blood stains on the hall floor, indicating that McNamara was shot while going through the hall to the front door. Policemen and reporters found a .45-caliber bullet in the front door. This was a bullet of different caliber from the one found on the floor. It is not known if it was fired into the hall last night or was there before McNamara was shot.

Provisions Found in House.
In the house was found a large stock of provisions, several suits of men's clothing, a number of hats and caps, and towels hanging in the kitchen. Several large bottles. Though McNamara was reputed to be a safe-blower, no explosives or arms were found. Behind a picture in the kitchen policeman found an 18-inch length of fuse such as is used to set off explosives.

About 10 minutes after McNamara was found dead, policeman were called to the home of Mrs. Margaret Lotsey, 25 years old, at 2509 Cass.

HYDE TOLD TO VETO FRANCHISE TAX BILL

Attorney General Barrett Says
Reduction Would Produce
Another Legal Tangle.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—Attorney General Barrett today advised Gov. Hyde to veto the proposed amendment to the corporation franchise tax passed by the last Legislature, which would reduce the tax from one-tenth to one-fortieth of the par value of the capital stock and surplus employed in Missouri, and would define surplus as the difference between the capital stock and assets of a corporation less liabilities.

Barrett's letter follows: "The validity of the corporation franchise tax act will be decided within a few weeks by the United States Supreme Court. Most of the objections are presented in that case and a favorable decision ought to go far towards discouraging further assaults on the law, unless meanwhile the law has been materially changed and the opportunity thereby given for the presenting of new objections. "If the amendment defining surplus is signed, a material change in the law will have been accomplished. The present law as construed by the Supreme Court of Missouri, places the tax upon gross assets. The amendment now before you would measure the tax by net assets. I call particularly to your attention what is known as the Marquette case (State ex rel. Marquette Hotel Co. vs. State Tax Commission, 231 Southwestern 721). The Missouri Supreme Court in this case not only argues at length the justice and fairness of the law as it now stands, but in addition uses this language: 'If relators contentions should be upheld, such a construction would render the statute unconstitutional. 1. C. 724.' "What the relator contended was that net rather than gross surplus should be the measure.

"I have before me elaborate briefs from Missouri lawyers arguing that in spite of this Supreme Court opinion, the proposed amendment would not invalidate the law. Even if it conceded that the question is still open, it must certainly be admitted that the amendment will prompt an entirely new line of litigation against the law.

"After the United States Supreme Court has made its findings on the law as it now stands, we can proceed with definiteness and certainty, and can make such changes as in the light of their opinion seem desirable. The language used by the Missouri Supreme Court is a warning against the amendment now before you, and even if not to be considered as the final decision of this court upon that point, it would seem that for the other reasons mentioned, the present time is inappropriate for the change."

WIFE OF NEGRO SAYS HE KILLED WHITE MAN IN 1917

Police Investigating Story of Murder
That Led to First East St.
Louis Race Riot.

John Smith, 49 years old, a negro fireman, is being held by the East St. Louis police while they investigate statements by his wife that on the night of May 12, 1917, he shot and fatally wounded Harry Oiler, 24 years old, manager of the Tri-City Packing Co. She told this story today, after causing the arrest of Smith on a charge of heading her.

The killing of Oiler was one of the crimes which inflamed the racial feeling which led to the riots of May 28 and July 2, 1917, in East St. Louis, in which more than 40 persons were slain. No clue as to the identity of the murderer ever had been obtained.

Questioned about the crime, Smith denied it, and, beating his head against a table in the detectives' room, and later against the walls of his cell, weepingly declared that his wife was "framing up" on him.

FORMER ASSISTANT CHIEF OF DETECTIVES PASSES TEST

Police Board Is Expected to Appoint
Keely as Patrolman Immediately.

John J. Keely of 4923 Page boulevard, former Assistant Chief of Detectives, yesterday successfully passed a physical examination for reappointment as a policeman and it was expected that the Board of Police Commissioners would authorize his appointment, probably at today's session.

As was exclusively told in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch, Keely, for some time had been seeking reappointment as a vindication of his record in the Police Department. He was dropped from the rolls 13 years ago after a graft investigation in which the witnesses against him were criminals.

It is expected that Keely will be appointed as a patrolman without having to undergo a probationary service and later will be assigned to the detective staff. He is 52 years old.

CITY BEGINS NEW FISCAL YEAR WITH $1,009,016 DEFICIT*Previous Estimates of Expenditures in Excess of Revenues for 1920 Had Placed Amount at $826,000.*REVERSIONS LESS THAN ANTICIPATED*Funds Available This Year Placed at $15,500,000 With Budget Demands Approximating $20,017,690.

The city today began the fiscal year 1921-22, with a deficit of $1,009,016.41 brought over from the year 1920-21, which ended at midnight. Previous estimates of the deficit, quoted frequently in the recent majority campaign, had been not more than $826,000.

The Comptroller's office explained today that reversions of unused amounts from different departments had been smaller than was expected. The reversions received amounted to $270,000, while about $450,000 had been expected. Last year's receipts were $14,845,242.50, and the expenditures were $15,854,242.21.

To Try to Overcome Deficit. Comptroller Nolte said the utmost efforts would be made in the fiscal year now opening, to overcome the deficit, in order to come out even one year hence.

The anticipated revenue for 1921-22 is $15,500,000. Deducting at the outset the deficit of more than $1,000,000, less than $14,500,000 will remain for the year's budget. The total of the estimates made by the various departments is $20,017,690.43.

"We shall have to cut to the bone," the Comptroller said, "and do none but the most necessary work. We shall be helped by the absence of the heavy election expenses. I hope. Elections cost us a half million dollars last year."

The Comptroller mentioned the loss of drams shop license revenue as one of the chief causes of the deficit. Other causes, he said, were increased salary rolls and increased cost of supplies.

Comparative Expenditures. The Police Department was cited as an instance, its expenditures having been $3,116,000 last year, as compared with $2,904,243 for 1919-20. The expenditures for salaries and maintenance in various city departments were $15,618,242.21, and $136,000 for special improvement work, as compared with $13,382,350.81 for salaries and maintenance the year before and $756,404.05 for special purposes.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment, of which the Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen are members, will meet before the reorganization of Mayor Kiel and the opening session of the new Board of Aldermen, one week from today, to consider the budget. The readjustment of the Fire Department, with a large increase in numbers, to meet the provisions of the eight-hour day enactment made by the voters last week, is one of the problems before the Board of Estimate.

GRAND JURY INDICTS MAN FOR MURDER OF FEB. 21*Four Charges Preferred Against Joe Cipolla, 22 Years Old, in Indictment.

Joe Cipolla, 22 years old, of 214 Wash street, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday on a charge of killing Gustave Genovesa, 1021 North Eighth street, in a holdup of the poolroom of Joseph Lombardo, 828 North Eighth street, Feb. 21. The indictment charges Cipolla with murder in the first degree, assault to kill, robbery in the first degree and carrying concealed weapons.

Lombardo told the police that Genovesa and his brother, Biagio Genovesa, of 1016 North Ninth street, who was wounded, recognized Cipolla when he entered with another man and attempted to hold up the persons in the poolroom. They started toward Cipolla and the robbers fired.

CITIZENS ROUT ROBBERS FROM BANK AT TABLE GROVE, ILL.*Contents of the Vault Saved After Hole Is Blown in It by an Explosion.

By the Associated Press. MACOMB, ILL., April 12.—Citizens of Table Grove, armed with revolvers and shotguns, drove away five bank robbers yesterday and saved the contents of the Town Bank's vault. The volunteer posse was aroused when an explosion tore a hole in the rear of the vault. The robbers retreated to an automobile and sped out of town. Only a few Liberty Bonds were taken from safety deposit boxes which were broken by the explosion.

A trail of blood leading from the rear of the bank to where the automobile was taken as evidence that at least one of the bandits was wounded. None of the citizens was hit.

Table Grove is a village of 800 inhabitants in Fulton County, 23 miles east of this city.

5 MEN TAKE TIRES AS OWNER TRIES TO SHOOT

Robbers Ignore Efforts of Filling Station Proprietor to Stop Them With Unloaded Shotgun.

Five men in an automobile carried away a tire casing and eight inner tubes from Fred Klein's filling station, 4321 South Broadway,
at 1:30 this morning, while Klein stood pointing a shotgun at them and pulling the trigger. The gun was not loaded, though Klein had supposed that it was. He lives next door to the filling station
and was awakened by the noise
made by the men carrying out the tires.

United Cigar Store Clerk Knocked Down, Cash Register Rifled.
A man with a revolver held up the clerk of the United Cigar Store at 200 North Ninth street at 8:30 last night. The clerk, J. M. Welch, later said to a policeman that he at first resisted the robber, and struck him
in the face, but that the robber kicked him, and pointing his revolver
at him, ordered him to lie still on the floor. The man took $25 from the cash register and departed.

Miss Emma Traband of 3552 Lafayette avenue, reported that a negro seized her at Jefferson avenue and Stoddard street, and took her purse, containing $2, some car tokens and keys.

Clothing Taken From Home.
The home of George R. Merrell, 6208 Washington avenue, was robbed
during the family's absence, the police were informed, and three suit cases, containing clothing valued at several hundred dollars, were taken.
The robbery evidently occurred Sunday night, as two men carrying three suit cases were seen on a Delmar car that night, and they left one of the suit cases on the car. It proved to belong to the Merrells, and contained clothing.

Other burglaries reported, with the thefts of jewelry and clothing to the value of several hundred dollars,
were at the homes of Nat S. Brown, 6224 Washington avenue; George S.
Wesemann, 4374 West Belle place;
William Ford, 6214 Michigan avenue,
and Charles Rouff, 6048 Horton place. At the last-named place $50 cash was taken, beside jewelry.

Mrs. Lena Weber of 912 Emmet street reported that she chased two daylight burglars out of her home
yesterday, and that they dropped
what they had taken.

BLUE JACKETS HALT WORK ON WESTERN UNION CABLE

Navy Lieutenant Says He Is Still Acting on Orders Issued During Wilson Administration.

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., April 12.—Operations in connection with the Western Union Telegraph Co.'s cable connecting this city with Miami beach were abruptly halted as soon as gotten under way by armed Bluejackets from the United States Subchaser 154. Western Union workmen had been sent to lift the cable
so that it would not be buried beneath an island now being built in Biscayne Bay. It was explained last night by the company's local manager, when they were ordered by the Bluejackets to desist.
Lieut. Murray, sent here from the Seventh Naval District headquarters
at Key West, when the original controversy began in August, 1920, said that he was still acting under orders issued during the Wilson administration and that until they were rescinded no further work on any cable belonging to the Western Union would be permitted here.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER MEN TO DRIVE OUT PRETENDERS

Press Club to Deal With Persons Promoting Improper Ends as Journalists.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 12.—A committee on ethics, similar to those of newspaper associations, to "drive out of New York newspaper men or those representing themselves as such, who use their positions to promote improper personal ends, will be formed in the New York Press Club. This action followed the recent move of certain members to reorganize the club.
A committee was named today to set up machinery for dealing with such persons, and with those not properly newspaper men who have represented themselves to be affiliated with the profession and have solicited business on such representations. Don Marquis of The Evening Sun, was named chairman. The move will not be confined to club members, it was said, but to all newspaper men whose activities are considered as prejudicial to the newspaper profession.

JAIL TERMS FOR MOONSHINERS

Milwaukee Municipal Judge Announces Policy in Liquor Cases.

By the Associated Press.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 12.—
Jail terms, without the alternative
of a fine, will be imposed on all persons found guilty before him of making and selling moonshine. Judge A. C.
Buck announced yesterday in Minneapolis Court, in sentencing "Tony Wierock to one year in prison for operating a still in a tunnel under his barn.
"I'm not going to curb the moonshine evil, so we will see what prison terms will do," Judge Buckus said.

INGROWN TOE NAILS

Nail Turns Out Itself if you
Toughen Skin Underneath

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.
"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.
It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely.
To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.
You will find, too, that all itching
and digging of the scalp will stop,
and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

TRADE CONFERENCE IN MEXICO IN JUNE

Party of Mexicans, in City, Invites St. Louis Business Men to Attend.

Seven Mexican, one Italian and three American business men from Mexico City, representing the Confederation of Chambers of Commerce of Mexico, arrived here today to invite business men to St. Louis to participate in an International Trade Conference at Mexico City from June 20 to 26. They were guests at luncheon at Hotel St. Louis of the local Chamber of Commerce, World's Trade Club and Manufacturers' Association.

A delegation of 80 St. Louis business men is in Mexico City today being a group from the Chamber of Commerce which desired at first-hand to observe Mexican business conditions.

Members of Delegation. The visitors are: Fernando Leal Novelo, president of the Confederation of Chambers of Commerce of Mexico, importer and exporter of food products; Leopoldo Palazuelos, director of the confederation, importer and exporter; Camilo Sanchez, director of the confederation; planter and hemp exporter; Adolfo Martinez, director of the confederation of Chambers of Industries, chairman of the mining section, mine and smelter operator; Bernard Zedina, shoe manufacturer; Humberto Sheridan, representing El Universal, a Mexico City newspaper; Antonio Cornejo, secretary to the confederation; Dante Cusi, president of the Italian Chamber of Commerce in Mexico City; W. L. Vail, representing the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico, vice president of Frust Company of Mexico; Bruno Newman, director of the confederation, director of American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico, president of Lion Brand Products Co., and John B. King, general manager of Mexico-American Excursion Co.

The confederation of Chambers of Commerce of Mexico has 54 Mexican chambers as members, as well as the American, Spanish, French and Italian chambers. The confederation which is here representing it, known as the Mexican Good Will Commission, entered this country Feb. 25 and went from El Paso, Tex., north to Seattle, Wash., east to Boston, back through Washington, D. C., where an audience was had with President Harding, and will return by way of Dallas, Tex., when it leaves St. Louis tomorrow evening. Novelo said the members especially wanted to visit St. Louis because St. Louis exporters understand the desires and feelings of Mexicans.

ADMINISTRATOR HAS TEACHER'S ESTATE

The estate of Miss Harriett A. Higgins, 60 years old, a school teacher, who died March 21, has been placed in control of Public Administrator Hampe pending a determination as to who are her legal heirs. Her estate is valued at about $20,000, consisting of $2000 in cash, $2500 in Liberty Bonds, realty at 5207 Wells avenue, where she lived, and several unimproved lots in Meachin Park, St. Louis County, and in St. Clair County, Ill. The bonds were in a safe deposit box in the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., where the money also was deposited.

When Miss Higgins died none of her neighbors could give information as to whether she had relatives living. However, George T. Higgins of 4405A Arco avenue has filed notice on the administrator that he is an heir. He also claims the right to administer her property, stating that other heirs, of whom there are about 16, have waived this right in his favor. Attorney A. L. Levi, who represents him, said that Higgins and the teacher were second cousins. There are no closer living heirs of Miss Higgins than first cousins, the attorney said. No will was found, and in the absence of a will the estate will be divided according to law.

COMEDY AND DANCING LEAD ON GOOD ORPHEUM BILL

Boisterous comedy and stockless dancing, both the best of their kind in current vaudeville, are featured on an unusually bright bill at the Orpheum this week. On the dancing side the undisputed leaders are the Marmen sisters, who for good measure introduce to music lovers David Schoeller, a pianist of such remarkable virtuosity that vaudeville sooner or later will have to use all of its allurement to keep him from deserting to the concert stage.

The Lightner sisters and Newton Alexander, always prime entertainers, have a full stage act which approaches the proportions of a musical comedy and exploits a chorus of pretty girls and the Dancing McDonalds.

There is a rich mine of comedy. De Haven and Nice, those funny fellows who sing "We're Mulligan and Mulligan From the West," have a side-splitting act which includes some of the horse play which made them famous in "Sometime." Jack La Vier, trapeze monologist, and Joe Towle, the sleepy comedian, have genuine "big-time" stores of foolishness and merriment. Anna Chandler sings pert songs, with Sidney Landfield at the piano. Ed Lord and Margie Fuller have a comedy musical turn and Davis and Peile are acrobatic strong men.

Bombs Thrown at Cork Police.

CITY OFFICIALS TO PROTEST AGAINST REALTY VALUATION

Associate City Counselor and Others to Go to Jefferson City Thursday to Voice Objections.

City officials will appear before the State Board of Equalization in Jefferson City, probably Thursday, and will protest against the order of the State Board for an increase of 30 per cent in the assessed valuation of all St. Louis real estate. Associate City Counselor Hamilton today advised Assessor Wollbrink that this would be the first step taken, and said that he would appear with the Assessor, and probably with the Comptroller, to argue that the increase ordered is inequitable, in comparison with the assessment of realty in other parts of the State. Hamilton further advised Wollbrink that, if the 30 per cent increase order should stand, the only practicable way of complying with it would be to increase all real assessments by 30 per cent.

Notice Required. He said that, in case any discrimination was shown, by increasing some property and exempting other property from the increase, it would be necessary, under the law, to send notices to the owner of each piece of property increased, and to grant the property owner a hearing. All this would have to be done by the city Board of Equalization within the limits of its four-weeks' session, the term of which is fixed by law, and which ends next Saturday. This, Hamilton said, would be impossible, and any neglect of the required procedure might result in raising legal obstacles to the collection of tax bills.

Wollbrink had previously urged the State Board of Equalization to hold the rate of increase in the city realty assessments down to 10 per cent. A 10 per cent increase in assessed valuations is all that the city could absorb, for purposes of its own revenue, without reduction of the city tax rate. Under a legislative act, taxes for municipal purposes may not exceed, by more than 10 per cent, the taxes of the previous year on the same property. There is no such restriction on taxation for State purposes. In view of the demand for a 30 per cent increase in realty valuations, city officials have considered a reduction of the municipal tax rate from $1.27 to $1.05 on the $100. The State tax rate here is to be 13 cents, instead of 18 last year.

A suggestion made by the officers of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, that the Assessor should ask the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition against the State Board of Equalization, was declared by Hamilton to be impracticable. "One State official could not obtain a writ against another," Hamilton said. "However, an individual taxpayer might appeal to the courts for relief."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK ELECTS B. H. LANG VICE PRESIDENT

Former Grain Dealer Will Be on Active Duty in New Office.

Bert H. Lang, former grain dealer, was today elected an active vice president of the First National Bank, by the bank's directors. Lang was chief of the St. Louis office of the United States Grain Corporation from January, 1919, to July, 1920, and previously, beginning in August, 1917, he was in the grain corporation's service, having charge of the purchase and distribution of wheat and the assignment of grain to millers. Lang has lived in St. Louis 37 years, and for 20 years was head of the Bert H. Lang Co., grain dealers, in the Merchants' Exchange Building. He dissolved this business when he entered the Government's service. In his service with the bank he will specialize in commodities, or soil products. F. O. Watts, president of the bank, said that he had been looking for some time for a man who had a broad knowledge of the production, distribution and consumption of soil products, and who at the same time had banking qualifications.

682 SILK SHIRTS STOLEN

Burglars Climb Fire Escape to Rob Locust Street Factory. Burglars last night stole 682 silk shirts valued at $1700 from the Weik-Kalter Manufacturing Co., on the eighth floor of the Furniture Exchange Building, 1403 Locust street. The burglary was discovered at 7 a. m. today. The burglars apparently climbed the fire escape to the roof, where they cut a three-foot hole in a shanty near the water tank. They went down the stairs leading from the shanty to the eighth floor and then took the elevator to the first floor, departing by the front door.

Museum Attendance Increases. The attendance at the City Art Museum is showing a considerable increase over that of last year. ## $702,282 PERSONALTY LEFT BY C. M. SEAMAN

$122,282 in Corporation Stocks and $580,032 in Bonds Listed in Inventory.

An inventory of the estate of Clement M. Seaman, 86 years old, of 5554 Delmar boulevard, who died Feb. 9, shows personal property with a par value of $702,282.

This consists of stocks in corporations valued at $122,282.82 and bonds with a face value of $580,032. Among his stock holdings are 130 shares of Laclede Gas Co., 132 shares of Scullin Steel Co., 100 shares of Santa Fe Railway, 100 of New York Central Railroad and 200 of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

In his will Seaman bequeathed $20,000 to Charles W. Isaacs, a brother-in-law, and gave the residue of his estate to his wife, Ada C. Seaman. He paid an unusual tribute to Mrs. Seaman, stating in the will that "since the time of his early youth all the joys I have so abundantly possessed were attained through her influence and love."

Even his material possessions, he added, were acquired from a stimulus of a desire to please her, and she was "the real promoter and architect of his fortune."

Seaman was one of the pioneer street railway builders of St. Louis and was vice president of the Union Depot lines before their consolidation into the United Railways. He had been retired from active work about 25 years.

Dry Goods Merchant Is Bankrupt.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the Federal Court today by Harry Poonil, a retail dry goods merchant at 1921 North Vandeventer avenue. He lists unsecured liabilities of $3722 and assets of $1155. His liabilities are due to local wholesale dry goods dealers for merchandise. Among his assets he lists $1000 as the value of his stock in trade.

CARELESSNESS VERDICT AGAINST TRUCK DRIVER

Coroner Holds Machine Was Driven in Such a Way It Was Overturned, Killing Man.

A Coroner's jury today, at the request over James J. Higgins of 1304 South Broadway, returned a verdict declaring that Joseph Stuckel of 2207 Menard street, was criminally careless in driving an automobile truck in such a way that it was overturned, causing the death of Higgins, who was riding with Stuckel in the truck.

The accident occurred at Thirtieth and Utah streets at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, when a fishing party was returning home in the truck. The police report said the truck was overturned in a collision with the touring car which did not stop, but sped north after the accident. This was not borne out at the inquest.

Several witnesses testified that they saw a touring car driving north about the time of the accident, but they said this machine did not strike the truck. It seemed to them, they said, that Stuckel, who was driving the truck, feared a collision with the touring car and tried to turn sharply to avoid it. He turned too short, they said, and the truck was overturned.

Four other men besides Higgins were injured. Higgins died at his home half an hour later.

On the original statement of the police that another machine had hit the truck the Automobile Club of St. Louis yesterday offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the driver of the machine supposed to have been in collision with the truck.

All diagnosis and admission to hospitals, he added, will also be through the bureau, and veterans can be sent to the public health, army, navy or State hospital, as the bureau directs. ## GLASSES BY THE GRACE OF CHO TSO

THE first spectacles, so they say, were made by Cho Tso, who lived on a sacred mountain in the Middle Kingdom of China, three or four thousand years ago.

He made them out of crystals which he found where the gods had left them for him, and from the shells of the sacred tortoises that lived in the streams on the sacred mountain.

He cut and ground the crystals with sand from the same sacred streams—and many are the wonder-tales told of what the mighty glasses of Cho Tso accomplished.

LLOYD GEORGE IS MAKING EFFORT TO END MINE STRIKE

Premier Holds Conferences
With Leaders of Two Factions, but Situation Is Unchanged, Advisors Say.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 12.—The railwaymen and the transport workers, members of the miners of the Triple Alliance, will continue to work, notwithstanding the strike order which had been issued for tonight. They were instructed this evening by their organizations to keep on with their labors, pending further instructions.

Pre-arranged generally held out to be unfavorable, although a member of the miners' Executive Committee said last night: "We have not come to grips as yet on counter proposals." Yesterday's progress barely paused the preliminary stage of the statement of the respective cases of those directly involved in the miners' strike, and says the London Times, "nothing emerged from them but a presentation of the problem in all its naked difficulty."

It was stated on various quarters today that the miners were prepared to accept a wage reduction by the establishment of a new scale schedule based on the cost of living. It was pointed out that, in even the most unfavorable circumstances, the transport strike cannot begin until Friday, as the miners' union, whose union is affiliated with the transport workers' federation, insisted on a ballot before walking out. This vote began today and will take four days to be cast.

Operations to insure the safety of the mines from flooding are proceeding without hindrance in most of the coal fields in the United Kingdom. The only exception is found in Fifehire, where only two of 64 pits are being pumped.

YOUTH DRIVES AUTO UPON SIDEWALK, INJURING BROTHER

Police to Apply for Warrant Charging Zauf, 17, With Operating Car When Intoxicated.

The police will apply today for a warrant against Frank Zauf, 17 years old, of 2640 Russell avenue, charging him with operating an automobile while intoxicated, following an accident yesterday afternoon when Zauf drove his automobile onto a sidewalk at Sidney street and Texas avenue and overturned the machine.

Zauf's brother, George, 19, who was riding with him, was injured severely, suffering a fractured nose, internal injuries and numerous cuts and bruises. He was taken to the city hospital. Frank Zauf was said by physicians at the city hospital to be suffering from acute alcoholism.

Mrs. Mary Heath of 4340 Lafayette avenue was bruised when struck by the automobile of Marshall Hunsing of 9 Shaw place, in front of 604 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon when she stepped from the sidewalk as Hunsing was backing his car into the curb.

Leon Morgan of 3001 North Twenty-third street, with his wife and two small children, was riding west in Locust street yesterday afternoon when his automobile collided with a wagon of the American Express Co. at Nineteenth street. The tongue of the wagon went through the windshield of the machine and all the occupants were struck by flying glass.

THREE OF 8 ROBBERS CAUGHT, TRAIN HOLDUP FRUSTRATED

Two Detectives in Express Car Open Fire on Men Near London, O., as They Try to Enter.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—An attempted holdup of train No. 25, leaving Cleveland at 8 o'clock last night en route to Indianapolis on the Big Four Railroad, was frustrated by American Railway Express Co. Detectives Zach Hathaway and S. J. Waterman of Cincinnati as the train neared London, O., at 10:30.

Eight men were said to have got on a blind baggage car at Cleveland. Near London one of them forced his way into the express car and grabbed an express package, which he passed to one of his companions. At this point the detectives, who had been watching two weeks for such an emergency, opened fire on the men. Five of them got away and three were captured. These were taken from the train at Shelby. One of the five who escaped is believed to have been shot.

ONCE FAMOUS BARITONE FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME

NEW YORK, April 12.—Giovanni Tagliapietra, famous 40 years ago as a baritone, was found dead at his home here yesterday. Tagliapietra was famous in the roles of "Escamillo" and "Valentine." Twenty years ago he appeared in a series of summer operas here, but since that time he has sung little in public.

The singer was a native of Venice, and in his youth ran away from the University of Padua to become a soldier under Garibaldi. Three years later he returned to the study of music. His first appearance in America was in 1880 with Max Baer's Opera Company in a performance of "Tucio."

Since his retirement from the stage Tagliapietra has lived in New York City. He is survived by his wife.

JAPAN TO SEND ENVOY TO TAKE UP PACIFIC PROBLEMS

Tokio Expecting Announcement of Decision for Special Representative to Washington.

HUGHES' NOTE IS CONSIDERED

Japanese Purpose Is to "Establish Friendly Co-operation With New U. S. Administration."

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, April 12.—Plans for sending to Washington a distinguished Japanese, who would take up the entire range of the so-called Pacific problems, including mandates, California, China, Siberia, immigration and armaments, are understood to be in the process of formulation by the Japanese Government.

Official announcement of the intention of this country to send such a delegate who would act in a capacity similar to that of former Premier Viviani of France, who is at present in the United States, has not as yet been made, but it is said that the subject is receiving serious attention.

The note from Charles E. Hughes, American Secretary of State, to the allies, declaring that America does not abandon her rights in the peace settlement, especially concerning German overseas possessions, not only created a profound impression in Japan, but has served, in addition, to crystallize the conviction that the time has arrived to bring about a solution of all problems—involving Japanese and America before the relations of those countries reach a critical stage.

Need of Action Seen.
Authorities at the Japanese Foreign Office confine themselves to a statement to the Associated Press that the Hughes note is "so important that it is receiving the most serious consideration from the Japanese Government, which is anxious to do everything possible to establish friendly co-operation with the new administration in Washington."

It is learned from other influential sources that the opinion prevails among prominent Japanese, especially those familiar with the United States, that the general situation has gone so far that it requires heroic treatment to prevent the two nations from further drifting apart. There is, therefore, an inclination to permit the problem involved in the disposition of the Island of Yap sink into comparative unimportance before a discussion of all the questions centering about the Pacific regarding which Japan and America have serious differences.

The plan to send a representative of the Japanese Government to Washington is not unconnected with the international situation in this country.

Change in Policies Possible.
It is understood an influential group is insisting that Japanese foreign policies be remodeled with the particular view to securing a settlement of Pacific problems and a general understanding, permanent in nature, with America. The basis of this understanding would be friendly co-operation.

Attainment of this program may involve a change in the Japanese ministry. Major-General Giuchai Tanaka, Minister of War, has already placed his resignation in the hands of Premier Hara.

It is apparent the political situation in Japan is complicated by differences over purely internal questions, including the one relative to the betrothal of the Crown Prince, which came to light recently, and which seems not to have been settled in some important aspects. Everything here, however, tends to show that the highest circles of the empire are concentrating their attention on relations with America, which Japanese high officials openly declare "must be improved."

Leading newspapers in their comment on the Hughes note, declare it is liable to place Japan in an embarrassing position, as the allies may find difficulty in supporting Japan's claims in the face of insistence upon American demands from Washington.

California Senate Approves Principles of Exclusion League.

By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 12.—Principles of the Japanese Exclusion League of California were approved by the State Senate today, 28 to 9, with but little debate.

Earlier in the day the Senate passed a bill prohibiting aliens ineligible to citizenship from fishing in the ocean waters of California after 1922.

The Exclusion League's declaration of principles includes: "Absolute exclusion for the future of all Japanese immigration . . . enforced by United States officials, under United States laws and regulations . . . and not as at present, under an arrangement whereby control is surrendered to Japan."

Japanese Legislators to Visit U. S.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, March 3.—A large delegation from the Japanese House of Representatives is planning to visit the United States about next August or September. The project was suggested at the time of the visit to this country of American Congressmen last year when the Americans expressed their wish for a return visit of Japanese parliamentarians.

FARMER IS FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH IN STALL OF BARN

Leonard Kolter, 66, Wealthy Bachelor, Lived Alone on Caseyville Road North of Belleville.

GUNNY SACK OVER
HEAD AND SHOULDERS

Head Crushed, Apparently From Blows From Wooden Mallet and Stout Hickory Club.

With hands and feet bound, a gun-
nysack over the head and shoulders, and the head crushed, apparently by repeated blows from a wooden mallet and stout hickory
club, the body of Leonard Kolter, 66
years old, a bachelor farmer living on the Caseyville road about four miles north of Belleville, was found in a stall of the barn on the place
at 9:45 o'clock last night by officers of Belleville. Kolter probably had been dead several hours.

The house had been ransacked,
presumably for money, as Kolter was reputed to be wealthy and as having kept a large sum of money in his home, but it is believed the crime
failed of its purpose, as Kolter, following several previous attempts to rob him, had placed his money in a Belleville bank.

House Found Ransacked.

About 9 o'clock this Sheriff of Belleville received a telephone message from George Meuner and Philip Hinterthier, friends of Kolter, that Kolter had disappeared, and it appeared that his house had been robbed. Two men were sent to the farm and they found Meuner and Hinterthier standing outside the house. They entered the place and found it thoroughly ransacked.

A mule, with harness on, was found in a nearby field, and the men went to the barn where another mule with harness off was found,
and in one of the stalls was Kolter's body. It is the theory of the officers that Kolter was removing the harness from the team when attacked and killed by someone hiding in one of the stalls who afterward ransacked the house for money.

A coroner's jury at Belleville today returned a verdict that Kol-ter met death at the hands of parties guilty of assault to kill. Hinterthier testified he and John Burk, neighbor, saw a man run from the barn and disappear in the woods
when he, Hinterthier, went to investigate the disappearance of Kol-
ter. Although Hinterthier and Burk were armed, neither fired at the man, as they believed at first it was Kolter. Some of Kolter's wearing apparel was displayed at the request to show the pockets cut out, presumably in a search for money.

Attacked Twice Before.

Kolter lived alone. About a year ago he was aroused at night by the barking of his dog and when he opened the door an armed man confronted him. He screamed the door and the man fired through it, narrowly missing Kolter. Last Thanksgiving day, while plowing, he noticed two men leave his house and upon investigation found they had ransacked it, taking a watch, razor and other articles. Four months ago he was knocked insensible in his barn
with a club while putting his team up for the night, and when he regained consciousness found that his house
had been ransacked.

After this he began sleeping at the home of Hinterthier, and last night,
when he did not appear at the Hinterthier home, Meuner and Hinterthier reported the matter to the officers.

Preferred to Live Alone.

Kolter was reputed to be worth about $75,000. Two months ago he was offered $20,000 for the coal under his land. Friends had often advised him to go to Belleville to live,
but he said he liked the simple life of farmer and preferred to live alone.
About two years ago his parents died and left him some money, which he took to the Belleville bank in a bagket.

The body was taken to Belleville.
The only relatives are cousins living in Southern Illinois.

the public in that particular position.

The efficiency of the Standard Oil Company
(Indiana) is due to its system of promotion
according to merit. Every employee knows

REVOLVER FOUND NEAR PLACE WHERE STUDENT WAS SHOT

Police Believe They Have Weapon Used by Robbers
Who Murdered John A.
Keating Sunday Night.

CALIBER SAME AS BULLET IN BODY

Another Witness Also Found
Who Saw Men Running
From Oil Station—Better
Descriptions Obtained.

The police believe they have the revolver with which John A. Keating, 23-year-old Washington University student, was killed by robbers Sunday night at the Standard Oil filling station at 1003 North Grand avenue, where he was employed as a clerk.

A 45-caliber Colt's revolver was found yesterday morning by John T. Seymour in the rear of 47 Vandeventer place. The autopsy disclosed that Keating was killed with a 45-caliber weapon. It is supposed that, as the robbers ran west in Bell avenue after one of them had killed Keating, the revolver was thrown away.

The autopsy showed that the bullet entered under the right collarbone, passed through the right lung, struck a rib on the left side and was reflected into the left lung.

Most of the numbers on the revolver have been filed off, but it is to be taken apart in the hope of finding identification marks which will aid in tracing its ownership.

The police also have the advantage of a better description of the robbers than was available yesterday. Another witness was found who saw the men running away from the filling station. He gave the police a good description of the men and search is being made for them.

Testimony at Inquest.
At the inquest today George M. Carroll of 2941 Page boulevard, one of the first to enter the filling station, said he found Keating sitting at the desk with one arm resting on the desk and the other held over his chest. "They didn't give me a chance," he said. "They said, 'Stick 'em up' and at the same time they shot."

Carroll said he asked Keating for a handkerchief and tried to staunch the flow of blood. Keating said he had just finished a letter to his girl and asked Carroll to mail it, but in the excitement Carroll forgot to do so.

Burt Caldwell, 2414 Bell avenue, testified that as he entered Keating said: "Buddie, two young fellows came in here and shot me." The witness said one of the men who ran away was taller than the other and one wore gray clothes and the other a dark suit. He did not see their faces.

A verdict of homicide at the hands of unknown persons was returned.

Albert Seger of 3494 Washington avenue volunteered the information yesterday to a policeman of the LaCade Avenue District that on the night of the murder he was walking south on Grand avenue with Miss Ruth Beatty of 2419 Coleman avenue when he noticed two young men outside the filling station, acting suspiciously. He called the attention of the young woman to the men, and they walked slowly so as to watch the strangers.

Looking back a few seconds later, he saw the young men enter the station and the taller of the two point a revolver at Keating. A shot was heard immediately afterward, and the two men ran west on Bell avenue.

Description of Robbers.
Seger described the taller of the two as about 5 feet 10 inches tall, about 25 years old, of slender build, about wearing a tan, and a gray cap. The other was about the same age, 5 feet 7 inches tall and wore a dark overcoat and a dark slouch hat. Seger said he would be able to identify the men if they wore the same clothing. The police will question Miss Beatty.

At the direction of Keating's father, A. C. Keating of 704 Clay street, Topeka, Kan., the body has been turned over to an undertaker. The father informed the police that he would arrive today. The funeral will be at Topeka.

CHAUFFEUR ADMITS STEALING GOODS HE WAS DELIVERING

Joseph Marshall, 22 years old, of 1302 Bacon street, a chauffeur for the Stix, Baer & Fuller department store, admitted in a written confession to the police today that he and his helper, William Eggers, 15 years old, of 761 Lami street, stole about $225 worth of merchandise entrusted to them for delivery. Eggers also admitted taking part in some of the thefts, which began last September. Merchandise valued at $209 was recovered at Marshall's home.

Baby Playing With Matches Burned.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—
County Assessors are blamed by State Auditor Hackmann for inequalities which Hackmann admitted probably exist in the valuations upon which property owners of the several counties of Missouri will pay taxes
this year.

"If all the assessors had done
their duty," said Hackmann, "there would have been no trouble with this equalization, but some of them did not, so the Board of Equalization
simply had to do the best it could.
The board realized that these inequalities could not be corrected this year, so I expect it did not do quite as high as it could have done. It probably allowed about 10 per cent
play under 100 per cent, to make it easier for this year."

"Next year everybody will have had due warning and it will be up to the assessors to get out and make an assessment upon the real value of property, instead of merely copying from the assessment books of the previous year the valuation figures for various properties. This equalization report is not perfect, I know,
but it's a big improvement over any previous equalization. The board has worked together pretty well, and I am well pleased with the results."

Below Census Estimate.
Comparison of the United States
Census figures on Missouri farmland, which totaled $2,062,967,700, with

St. Francois County shows probably the greatest difference between census and board figures of the nine.
It is a mining county in the southeast lead belt and was given land
values as follows: By the census,
$1,487,809; by the board, $4,467,

CUMMINGS EXTOLS WILSON IN SPEECH AT PITTSBURG

Former Democratic Chairman Says Ex-President Laid Groundwork for Freedom of the World.

JEFFERSON DAY DINNER OF WOMEN

Other Speakers, Including Women, Pay Striking Compliments to Former Executive.

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, Pa., April 12.—
More than 1000 persons, many prominent in Democratic circles, attended the annual Jefferson day dinner of the Allegheny County Women's Democratic Committee here last night. The principal speakers included Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee,
Mrs. Ellen D. Davis of Philadelphia,
Miss Rachel Archer of Reading,
Bruce Sterling of Uniontown and W.
S. Vandyske of Harrisburg, member of the Pennsylvania Democratic Committee.

Many compliments were paid
Woodrow Wilson by the speakers, especially by Cummings, who declared, while Jefferson had been instrumental in making America free, Wilson had set down the principles
which ultimately will free the world.
"When the great founder of the Democratic party drafted the Declaration of Independence, the world was released, upon this continent, forces
which ultimately made America free.
When, at the close of the great war,
Woodrow Wilson, co-operating with the representatives of the dominant Governments of the world, formulated the covenant of the League of Nations, there were put in motion forces destined ultimately to set the world free."

Reference to "Failure."
"Men talk of failure and speak of the tragedy that is supposed to reside
in making America free, and Wilson had set down the principles which ultimately will free the world. The word 'failure' cannot be applied to any project which has for its purpose
the establishment of permanent peace or to any man who labors in its support. Merely to undertake a plan, to formulate its terms, to give it to the world, is a triumph for the age; and to secure the adherence of the 40 nations that recently gathered at Geneva, marked the first advance of statesmanship in the history of the human race. An achievement of this character is beyond the reach of critics
for it is in accord with the Divine purpose itself. 'Failure' is a term properly applicable to those who, at the most critical moment of the world's history, used their power and the weapons of sedition and treach-ery to thwart or delay the realization of the world's hope."

"No matter what else may be said of the campaign of 1920, this always will be said: The Democratic party did not dip the flag. It fought the good fight; it kept the faith; and, in the light of events, faces the future with undiminished courage, proud of its achievements, confident of the verdict of history and serene in the knowledge that it will be asked again
to take the management of the great affairs of our country."

Republican Campaign Propaganda.
"Today, though crowned with power, the Republican party has neither program nor settled policy.
The Secretary of State, in dealing with Mexico and China, in discussing the cable lines at Yap, in considering the Russian situation, and in preserving the American position relative to Mesopotamia, speaks the language and proclaims the policies of his Democratic predecessor. It was said that all the Wilson policies would be repudiated, and that there would be established a separate peace with Germany as soon as the Republican Congress could pass the law and a Republican President could sign it.
This was convenient propaganda for the purpose of a campaign, but it was not a policy. It was a policy of effect, and such a course now appears to Republican leaders as inconsistent with American honor. Each advance which the Republican party has made in the past has been the result of the soundness of the Democratic position."

"In our dealings with the tariff question, we understand that the public leaders are so loath to learn, that a nation cannot sell without buying; that foreign and domestic commerce are not different things, but only different aspects of the same thing; that foreign business begets domestic enterprise and that America cannot prosper without the world."

DEMOCRATS DECIDE TO SUBMIT ELEVEN HYDE BILLS TO VOTE OF THE PEOPLE; REPUBLICANS' RECORD IS CONDEMNED

All Consolidation Measures
Will Go to a Referendum Vote, Leaders Decide at State Conference Here.

The Democratic State Committee,
after an all-day meeting at the Planters Hotel yesterday, decided to submit 11 bills, six of them administration measures, to referendum.
The bills are those of Gov. Hyde's departmental consolidation program,
the judicial restructuring bill and two abolishing certain Kansas City courts. The State Committee gave out a lengthy statement, denouncing the Governor's plan; the Republican Legislature and the State Board of Equalization, the latter body being criticized because of its policy of raising assessment values of property.

The bills in question were passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. Unless rendered inoperative by the filing of referendum petitions they will become effective about the middle of June, 90 days
after the adjournment of the Legislature. Referendum petitions for the bills will be required to be filed with the Secretary of State before the signature of 5 per cent of the voters
at the last November election in two-thirds of the 16 congressional districts.

The number of signatures it is estimated will be required is at least 50,000. Women who were qualified voters at the November election, are eligible to sign petitions. The petitions would have to be filed with the Secretary of State before the time the bills go into effect. The referendum vote could not be taken until the by-election for Congress and other offices in November, 1922, and this delay would accomplish the Democrats' purpose of preventing the abolition of jobs.

Party Introduces Statement.
The State Committee meeting was preceded by a meeting of the committees with a number of County Committees. The plan of the Democrats and some members of the Women's Democratic State Committee. The statement issued was prepared as a resolution to express the views of the State meeting of Democrats and was introduced by State Insurance Commissioner Hartley.

The committee recommended for all bills over which the committee decided to act on, as well as on the bill
for a Department of Penal Institutions, but the committee struck the latter bill from the list. The committee members were at the meeting of the 11 bills. There are 32 members of the committee, 12 of whom are women.

Fund of $2000 Is Needed.
Chairman Yancey of the State Committee, who lives at Liberty, presided. He will appoint a committee of five Democrats to arrange for the circulation of petitions. About $2000 was raised among those present for this purpose. No estimate could be obtained of what the total cost of the referendum will be. The State Committee now has a considerable fund, and it was announced that former Gov. Gardner yesterday contributed $1000 toward meeting this deficit.

Among those Democratic officeholders who are slated for retirement or subordination in new departments under the consolidation
program are Grain and Warehouse Commissioner Bradshaw, Food and Drug Commissioner Barnhouse, Hotel Inspector Dickbrader, Oil Inspector Gray, Soft Drink Inspector Mosley, Fire Commissioner Lewis, Bradenbury, Dr. Barnhouse and Dick-brader were among those present
yesterday.

Bradshaw has already started the circulation of referendum petitions against the agricultural bill, which abolishes his job. He estimates he will need 77,000 signatures. Dick-brader is opposed to the referendum action, preferring to give the Republican program a chance. The Banking Commissioner's office is abolished, but the Insurance Commissioner's office is retained. The Industrial Commissioner's office is retained.
The text of the statement issued by the State Committee, which contains explanations of the bills affected,
follows:

Here Are the Bills

Democrats Will Ask
People to Defeat
THE bills in Gov. Hyde's departmental consolidation program and those affecting the judiciary, which the Democratic State Committee, meeting here yesterday, decided to submit to referendum, if sufficient signatures can be obtained,
are as follows:

One creating a State Budget Department.
One affecting the State Department of Labor.
The two "agricultural bills,"
abolishing certain offices.
A series of four bills creating a State Department of Public Welfare.
The judicial restructuring bill.
One abolishing the Kansas
City Justice of the Peace courts.
One abolishing the Jackson County (Kansas City) Criminal Court.

Work of the General Assembly, ask
the attention of the people of Missouri to outstanding features of Hyde's legislative program, presented by him as the fulfillment of his party's pledges.
"We challenge closest inquiry into this legislation, and the action of the State Board of Equalization in raising assessments of real and personal property for taxation purposes
from $2,471,746,046 to $4,467,461, 482, approximately 80 per cent, without corresponding reductions in taxes."

"Primarily, the Governor's program rests upon pledges to reduce the burden of taxation by economy
of administration, the budget system
and the elimination of useless offices.
In the face of this pledge, the session just closed cost $250,000, a sum greater than any other single session in the history of the State, appropriating $9,000,000 more than any previous General Assembly.

"Under the guise of reducing taxes, the State revenue tax levy lowered one-third, but the State Board of Equalization has since increased the assessments 80 per cent,
which will result in a general flat increase of taxes on the entire State of approximately 32 per cent.

"Instead of creating a budget system, the Legislature established a Department of Budget, which is a centralization of authority in the Governor, without proper checks and balances, constitutes a serious threat to the welfare of the State. Illustrative of the power of the one-man government, we call attention to the fact that even to the purchase of a lead pencil, the act of the Governor is approved by the Governor's budget man, who renders an account of his acts to the Governor. This is a policy of this program presents an issue to the people, which none can ignore."

"It was never designed that the Governor of Missouri should be a one-man ruler, with powers reaching into every field of the State's life, and touching every individual citizen in the State. The plain intent of the Constitution was that the executive authority of the State should be distributed among the various officials named in that instrument, and by ruthlessly removing from office judges elected by the people, the Governor is attempting to subvert the Constitution by centering
all powers in the Governor, through the pretext of consolidating bureaus
and adding to their powers."

"The judicial gerrymander is the most impudently partisan measure
ever passed by a Missouri Legislature. By assuming to redistribute the State, and then making it impossible for the Governor, exercising appointive powers which the Legislature had no right to limit, to substitute venues of his own selection for judges chosen by the people."

"By this invasion of the courts and subjecting the State's judiciary to the sordid processes of partisan politics, and by ruthlessly removing from office judges elected by the people of the State, these new departments are to cost approximately $2, 000,000 during the next biennial period, while existing bureaus, departments and bureaus superseded and transferred cost only $1,400,000 a taxpayer's cost of $600,000 to the taxpayers of the State."

not export markets for wheat, cotton, copper and manufactured goods. The enactment of Child Labor Legislation, the passage of the Clayton act and the establishment of the Federal Reserve Bank, were the first steps behind the legislative purposes of the Democratic administration while the creation of the Federal reserve system gave to our country a financial independence which had never possessed under Republican rule and which enabled us to withstand successfully the enormous financial strain of the great war.

Woodrow Wilson in the War.

"It was the statesmanship of Woodrow Wilson that drove a wedge between the armies of the Central Powers. It was American initiative that broke the deadlock between the allied armies and broke up the U-boat warfare. When the time came to lay down the terms of the armistice, it was the American President who dictated the terms. The pen of Woodrow Wilson was mightier than the sword of Prussia.

"I say to you, in all solemnity, that no American President since the American Revolution has done more for our statesmanship have never, in the entire history of our country, reached the heights that they did under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson. We had it in our power to be only to be the moral leader of the world, but the material leader of a new world fashioned in the molds of our statesmanship. It was the content of our history. Our hearts beat the faster when we realized that it had been given to our country to lead the stricken peoples of the world and to give them a higher plane of achievement. The hour was ripe for this great adventure. The very air was sur-

Is This You NERVOUS ? Man or Woman ?

Did your first symptoms start with pain in back of head, a constant "tired feeling"—especially in the back, knees and feet?

—And then, did you notice irritability; trembling from the slightest exertion or mental excitement; inability to sleep soundly; nervous indigestion; sour stomach; constipation; dizziness; headache; backache; decline in bodily vigor; neuralgia; rheumatic twinges; chills and hot flashes?

—And perhaps you do not know that these symptoms lead toward neurasthenia—nervous exhaustion; serious mental disturbances; loss of self-confidence, and inability to qualify in any kind of work or play?

IF SO—YOU NEED CADOMENE!

Such symptoms indicate LACK OF NERVE FORCE. NERVE FORCE is the mysterious source of energy manifested in high spirits, vitality, vigor and keenness for work or play. The High-Spirited, prancing, dancing horse has as abundance of Nerve Force—that's what you need.

Cadomene makes you "STRONG AS A HORSE" and this is how it does so: Cadomene supplies what the blood and nerves need to aid nature when Nerve-Force is being slowly exhausted—taking Cadomene a few days proves it to be the most significant.

The digestion improves, better nutrition follows; the stomach, liver, kidneys, and all the vital glands of the body are supplied with needed elements, which also e "ch the blood; and then the blood with its tone-up, new richness, proceeds to build up that mysterious, source of energy, known as Nerve Force—the force that makes us speak of a man, woman, horse or dog, as "High-Spirited."

This is knowledge—and knowledge is power. Begin the Cadomene treatment today and see how quickly the results establish you with renewed Nerve Force—High Spirits, and all that glorious, vigorous health means to mankind.

Heitzenroeder First Round

Burke

Referee Randall Counted Him Out When Chicagoan Was Down

—Bought by Chicagoan

After being banged chop, delivered in the Herman Heitzenroeder out his heavy weight.

The end came as a surprise, which had his constant clinching to break through with blow that caught the referee on the floor like a wet blanket.

Burke, palpably not in condition, as shown by his nose tissue about his mouth, over on his side and head down, to listen with glazed eyes. Randall, toting off the count, was still on the floor, the referee's finger faintly counting the Chicagoan's knees.

Randall hesitated a moment, to his feet, but the referee dashed in and again Eddie left the floor while those near the ring frantically caught Burke out.

He might as well have had nothing left to fight to clinch. The power of the blow was too loose and then came after blow to Burke's head. After 20 seconds he finally sent him up and the referee caught him with the chin with made the ringiders at the fight.

Both Men on the Floor

Burke pitched forward and was struck in the groin with his knee. A floor and Heitzenroeder to the canvas, standing in a neutral corner, he started in agony.

The crowd was in a state of confusion, not knowing what had happened. Those more distant thought the knockout had resulted up to the ring. Randall stood over Burke and counted while Heitzenroeder helped, moaning, to be soon recovered, however dazed Burke was as he sat in the chair to receive.

Randall explained that he did not really out the first had one knee off the floor in the act of rising. He then said that he had been knocked out when he got into a position to himself at the count of five.

Heitz Himself Near

The only other high match occurred a few minutes later. Heitzenroeder was nervous at the beginning, but he was turned by the rushed, mined-appearing Burke shot, bulldog of a fellow about as compact as a fighting tiger. A quick Heitz on the receiving end, apparently in prospect, he whacked. A right zoomed lower maxilla. He fell forward and would to the floor but for the effect of falling against a second or two before he and the referee sank to the canvas.

Over and started a shaking his head to knock one knee, rising a moment, still dazed.

Having Been Kayoed Twice in One Round, Jack Burke Naturally Felt a Trifle Put Out About It

Heitzenroeder, Floored in First Round, Knocks Out Burke Twice in the Fifth

Referee Randall Counts Ten First Time, But Allows Bout to Continue When Chicago Fighter Has One Knee Off the Floor—Bout a Continuous Clinching Match.

By John E. Wray.

After being banged to the verge of dreamland by one terrific right chop, delivered in the opening round by Sergt. Jack Burke of Chicago, Herman Heitzenroeder, South Broadway's "conquering hero," knocked out his heavy-weight opponent TWICE in the fifth round.

The end came as a huge surprise to the scant and rather unhappy attendance, which had been moaning and booing the local man because of his constant clinching and his failure to lead. Heitz, who had been trying to break through with a right hook, finally got past Burke's guard with a blow that caught the soldier-boxer flush on the jaw and crumpled him up on the floor like a wet towel.

Burke, palpably not in the best of condition, as shown by a roll of adipose tissue about his hips, turned over on his side and raised his head to listen with glazed eyes to Eddie Randall tolling off the knell. Burke was still on the floor at nine, but as the referee's finger fell with the 10 count the Chicagoan was up on one knee.

Randall hesitated as Burke staggered to his feet, but when Heitzenroeder dashed in and tore at Burke's defenses, the referee stepped in and finally sent home a swinging uppercut and caught Burke underneath the chin with a thud that made the ringers shudder.

Both men on the canvas. Burke pitched forward and in doing so struck Heitzenroeder in the groin with his knee. Burke hit the floor and Heitzenroeder followed him to the canvas, instantly rolling over in a neutral corner, his face contorted in agony.

The crowd was in an uproar. Few knew what had happened to Heitzenroeder. Those more distant from the ringside thought that a double knockout had resulted and crowded up to the ring. Randall, however, stood over Burke and counted him out, while Heitzenroeder was being helped, moaning, to his corner. He soon recovered, however, while the dazed Burke was assisted to his chair to revive.

Randall explained that Burke was not really out the first time, as he had one knee off the floor and was in the act of rising. Most of those at the ringside felt that Burke had been knocked out when he failed to get into a position to defend himself at the count of 10.

Heitz himself near a "kayo." The only other high light in the match occurred a few seconds after the start. Heitzenroeder, palpably nervous at the beginning, was disturbed by the rushes of the determined-looking Heitz, who, in the second building of a fellow, who looked about as companionable as a man-eating tiger. A quick knockout, with Heitz on the receiving end, was apparently in prospect. Sure enough, when the last half allowed Heitz to gain by a big margin in the final seconds. Coster's showing in the second half of the fight was entirely on the defense.

Kid Taylor refused to lead, and he was Gorry's opponent, did not know how to land, so their six-round effort was dismal. Because he was willing, Gorry landed the better of the two, landing a few effective blows struck during the fight, Gorry was entitled to shade.

Harry Gorry knocked out Eddie Taylor last night. Johnny Ray and Johnny Dundee fought a 10-round draw at Pittsburgh. Joe Burman defeated Dick Looman in eight rounds at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA TO SPEND $50,000 ON MUNICIPAL TENNIS COURTS IN 1921. PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—An argument for more municipal tennis courts by William T. Tilden II, world's singles champion, yesterday moved the City Council's Committee on Property and Service to report favorably an ordinance authorizing the Fairmount Park Commission to spend $50,000 on building new city courts and for repairing 20 old ones. Emphasizing the advertising value of tennis courts, as well as their benefit to the health of the city youth, Tilden said:

"In San Francisco 15 years ago, five boys began playing tennis on the municipal courts. They are Maurice McLaughlin, William M. Johnston, who was my partner in doubles on the American team which won the Davis Cup; Willis E. Davis, Roland and the fame of their native city to every part of the world where the game is played."

Banks Quits Drake. M. R. Banks, director of athletics at Drake University for the past six years, has resigned from his position. When the year of the Drake school to develop an athletic winner in any sport was the cause of the rupture in relations is not yet known. However, Banks is endeavoring to make connections elsewhere. He is considered a very good football coach and has just published a gridiron textbook for coaches, which was well received.

Fohl to Switch Stock Fails to Come to Terms With Cardinals

Manager Lee Fohl of the Browns is figuring on using a new batting order for the opening game of the American League pennant race against the Cleveland Indians tomorrow at Sportsman's Park. The new front which Fohl has around will give the team a vast order of alternating left and right hand batters.

Fohl's plan is to bring Johnny Tobin up from sixth place to the lead-off position, with Walter Gerber dropping to second and Bill Gleason to sixth.

Fohl is a good man for the lead-off position, as until last season he was the regular for the Browns. He can wait out a pitcher and gets his share of the hits. Gerber is a good sacrifice hitter, while in the spring series against the Cardinals Gleason failed several times when trying to advance a mate by putting down a bunt.

Probable Batting Order. If Fohl carries through his present intention the locals will face the world's champions with the following array of clubbers: Tobin, left-handed batter; Gerber, right; Sieler, right; Jacobson, right; Williams, left; Gleason, right; Lee, left, and Severide, right.

Heretofore left-handed clubbers have been hitting in fifth, sixth and seventh position.

The Browns' manager sent his athletes through a long batting and fielding practice yesterday and the work will be repeated this morning.

In yesterday's workout, Dudley Lee, Lyman Lamb and Marty McManus worked out at third base.

For a person who has been playing the meadows, Lamb got around nicely. McManus was shooting the ball to first on a line and stated that his arm was giving him no more trouble.

Urban Shocker is Fohl's first choice as patcher, with Allan Sothern in reserve.

Cleveland Arrives Today. The Cleveland Indians are scheduled to arrive in St. Louis today and a practice at Sportsman's Park is planned for this afternoon. The Indians will have to play tomorrow, made necessary because of an injury to Bill Wambagans, the Indians' first baseman.

Stock Fails to Come to Terms With Cardinals

Third Baseman Departs for Chicago, Where Rickeymen Open the Season Tomorrow.

Milton Stock, the Cardinals' star third sacker, who awaited 319 in 15 games last season, came to St. Louis yesterday from his home at Mobile, Ala., but following a long conference with President Breardon and Manager Rickey was still a holdout. The Cardinals officials refused to raise their bid, while Stock refused to come down on his terms.

Stock has not been officially announced, it was learned yesterday from an authoritative source that Stock is holding out for just twice as much as he received in 1920.

Following yesterday's conference, Manager Rickey stated that he had been unable to do business with Stock and that it was his belief that the corner guardian would not be a member of the club during the coming campaign.

Stock Goes to Chicago. However, there is still a chance that Stock will come off his high horse and affix his signature to a contract. After his conference, he announced that he was going to Chicago, but he is in a great hurry to get to the city on the same train which took President Breardon and Manager Rickey to Chicago.

There is a chance, therefore, that he will be together and talked into the fold.

In case Stock gets into line, he will be ready to work with a moment's notice, as he is in good shape, having worked out this spring with the Mobile and Louisville clubs.

There is a possibility, however, that Stock, if he does sign, will be forced to ride the bench for a time, as he is a left-handed batter and the Cardinals have four left-handers in the infield combination which has been working so well this spring. Toporcer has not proven himself as heavy a hitter as Stock, but he is a great fielder, and in the series with the Browns started several fast double plays.

Rickey yesterday asserted that he would give the Cardinals a thorough trout before breaking up the combination.

Season Opens Tomorrow. The Cardinals departed this morning for Chicago to open the 1921 season against the Chicago Cubs tomorrow. Tonight members of the two teams will be the guests at a banquet at which Judge Landis, supreme dictator of baseball, will speak. Two athletes were left behind. They were Bill Doak and Bill Perdue, the Cardinals' league recruit, might draw the assignment. Jess Haines, Ferd Schupp and Bill Sherdel are other possibilities.

Rickey is figuring upon making a change in his batting order for the opening game, moving Clifton Heathcote up to first place and dropping Heinie Mueller, the St. Louis boy.

The Knott-Holers were sent through a long drill at Sportsman's Park yesterday, consisting of batting and fielding practice.

ALEXANDER EXPECTED TO START AGAINST CARDS. CHICAGO, April 12.—The Chicago Cubs returned today with a scoring record of 55 runs in their last four games on the training trip. A brief workout on the home field is scheduled for this afternoon in preparation for the opening game of the season tomorrow here against St. Louis. Alexander, it is expected, will start in the lineup.

A strenuous practice session for the White Sox at Comiskey Park yesterday was held in the face of the lack of exercise for the Sox caused by postponement of the last few games of their training trip. The Sox are expected to open the season tomorrow against the Tigers. Kerr was favored as the pitching selection to start, with Faber as the alternate.

PETERS REGAINS WORLD'S ROLLER SKATING TITLE. Rodney Peters of St. Louis regained the world's roller skating championship last night in the final of a series of races which have been held at the Palladium the past 10 days. Peters won out in a great finish over Roland Cloni of Chicago, who took the title away from him three years ago.

Nineteen Rookies to Figure in Big League Opening-Day Lineups

WHEN the major leagues open their season tomorrow, just 19 recruits have a chance to break in as regulars—nine in the National and 10 in the American. Despite the small number of youngsters, every team in the big tent, with the possible exception of Brooklyn, will show changes in its batting front over 1920.

Trades during the winter and injury to regulars is the reason for this. The probable batting orders to the 16 teams in the two circuits, shows 16 athletes have changed clubs during the winter. Eight of these switches are in the National and seven in the A. L.

Because of the world's series scandal of 1919, which robbed the White Sox of eight players, the Chicago club will show the greatest number of changes.

NEW PLAN FOR SALE OF PACKERS' YARD HOLDINGS ADOPTED

Swift and Armour Companies Must Place Properties in Hands of Two Trustees
Within 30 Days.

MUST BE DISPOSED OF WITHIN A YEAR

Shares in National Stock Yards and East St. Louis Junction Railroad Among Holdings to Be Sold.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A new plan under which Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. are to divest themselves of their interests in stock yards and stockyard terminal railroads was agreed to today by the Department of Justice and immediately approved by Justice Stafford of the District of Columbia Supreme Court. Under the plan the companies must deliver their stock in the yards and terminals to the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank at Chicago within 30 days for administration by two trustees, Henry W. Anderson of Richmond, Va., and George Sutherland of Salt Lake City, Utah, until sold, which must be within a year.

$10,000 a Year for Trustees.
The trustees are to receive salaries of $10,000 a year each and will have power to interfere in the management of any stockyard or railroad if in the opinion of both either the Sherman act or the terms of the decree are being violated.

The plan sets forth that the defendants are to proceed to sell their stock with due diligence with reports of all sales submitted to the court for its approval. These reports must contain the price and the name of the proposed purchaser and must be accompanied by affidavits that the proposed purchasers are in no way connected with the defendants.

May Get Extension of Time.
In the event that any of the stock remains unsold at the end of the year, the defendants may obtain an extension of the time upon a showing made to the court that they are in their efforts to dispose of the stock at a fair and reasonable price.

The legal principle, of course, was up to the Department of Justice. Justice Stafford said after he had signed the plan, "and when the department had approved the plan it was only incumbent upon me to see that the law was not violated by any of the particulars. I was glad to find that such was not the case and therefore approved the plan."

The properties, stock in which is to be sold by the two companies, are:

Sioux City Stockyard Co., St. Paul Union Stockyards Co., St. Joseph Stockyards Co., Fort Worth Stockyards Co., Denver Union Stockyards Co., Kansas City Stockyards Co., St. Louis National Stockyards, Union Stockyards Co. of Omaha Ltd., Bourbon Stockyards Co., Louisville, Ky.; Newark (N. J.) ## BALKY WITNESS CHANGES MIND ABOUT "LAWYER'S BUSINESS"

After Night in Custody of Bailiff
Miner Submits to Cross-Examination.

After a night spent in custody of a bailiff, Tony Ponnis, a miner, who yesterday told lawyers it was "none of their business," when they attempted to cross-examine him during the trial of a suit in the Circuit Court, decided that it was some of their business, after all, and submitted to cross-examination in the usual manner.

The case was one in which Fetka Feduch, a lead miner, of St. Joseph, Mo., was suing the St. Joseph Lead Co. for $25,000 for the loss of a foot. Ponnis was a witness for him. When the company's lawyers tried to cross-examine Ponnis he replied in the manner stated.

Judge Davis fined him $50 for contempt of court and instructed the bailiff to hold him until the fine was paid. This morning Tony came in and testified. Judge Davis then remitted the fine.

SACRAMENTAL WINE NOT AN ARTICLE OF COMMERCE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Drafts secured by warehouse receipts covering sacramental wine in storage are made ineligible for rediscout by Federal reserve banks, under a ruling issued today by the Federal Reserve Board. The ruling, however, the board said, does not affect the legal right of a bank to make a loan upon the note of a borrower secured by a warehouse receipt covering wine in bond.

Under its regulations, the board explained, drafts eligible for rediscout are required to be secured by a readily marketable staple. "The board does not believe," the ruling said, "that wine held in a bonded warehouse, which can be removed only for specific purposes and after complying with the requirements of the Volstead act and the regulations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue issued thereunder, can be said to be an article of commerce subject to constant dealings in ready markets, lawful sale."

"A delightful place in which to shop."

Rostand's Last Play Finally Sees the Light

"LAST NIGHT OF DON JUAN"

Noted French Playwright Wrote It Ten Years Ago; Postponed First by War, Then by Dramatist's Death—Not Acted Even Yet—Explores the Psychology of Traditional Betrayer of 1003 Women.

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

Copyright, 1921.

THE LAST NIGHT OF DON JUAN, the last work of the great French dramatist, Edmond Rostand, has just been given to the public, and it proves to be a work fully worthy of the pen of the author of "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Chantecler" and "L'Aiglon."

In two acts and a prologue, the play explores the psychology and the ultimate fate of Don Juan, traditional betrayer of women, who commits the unpardonable sin—the sin against the heart. For originality of conception, for poetic beauty, for sheer, satiric brilliancy in the treatment of the Eternal Masculine, "The Last Night of Don Juan" is the most important piece of dramatic writing in recent years. Completed in 1911, its production on the stage was twice postponed—once by the great war, again by the death of Rostand himself. In 1918, it has just been published, however, in the pages of L'Illustration.

In the prologue, Don Juan is rescued from his conventional fate. Descending the stairway into hell, escorted by the statue of the Comte de Ségur, his gallant bearing touches the heart of that old warrior, who offers him a respite provided the Devil will agree. Although Don Juan's cloak has been caught in the claws of the latter, he is permitted to grant his disciple 10 years more on earth, since Don Juan points out that there still remain many sins for him to commit.

The 10 years are up on the night when the first act opens in the upper room of the Venetian palace, overlooking the Adriatic, where Don Juan is living. He tells his friend, Sganarelle, that he is devoted to the Adriatic because it is married—referring, of course, to the old ceremony by which this sea was wedded yearly to the Doge of Venice, who came into it a golden ring. Sganarelle reminds him that "the hour approaches" when the Devil One will claim his soul, but Don Juan, still gayly insolent, plans to celebrate his last night with a supper, a ball and, after the ball, the usual fruits of Don Juan's usual victory.

From the street below sounds the cry of a puppet show, and Sganarelle tries to amuse Don Juan at supper. The showman proves to be the Devil himself in disguise.

DON JUAN, undaunted, asks the Devil to sup with him, prior to their departure for the infernal regions. Don Juan boasts of his cleverness, his daring, his joy in life. "And I carry you a supper, a ball and, after the ball, the usual fruits of Don Juan's usual victory," he says.

"I am the only hero that humanity, at bottom, admires!" proclaims Don Juan. "Why, read their books! Their plays! Everything proves it! Note with what a glittering eye virtue adores me. What power do so many dull and sluggish men dispense save that of believing themselves an hour what I am always! Observe with what ardor of literary explanation and of envy the professional nose is thrust into my life! Who does not secretly admire me for taking the kiss that he felt himself too indolent or too ugly to take? I am every man's hero—luck, long life! There is no work, no virtue, no science and no expression which I have not achieved. I have no regret for not being I—I have possessed!"

"But, dear immortalist, what have you possessed?" mildly inquires the Devil. "I have possessed the Devil!"

Don Juan calls Sganarelle to bring the list of the thousand and three ladies whom he has loved and vanquished.

"The Devil is possessing!" again inquires the Devil. "It is nothing more terrible!"

"But I knew them," argues Don Juan. "The name, the face, the reason, the lie—all their secrets."

"The Devil bids him tear up the list—the whole alphabet, from A to Z. The bits of white paper dance madly to the music of the Devil's violin; they float over the lagoon; they turn into gondolas; the gondolas approach the terrace; from each lands a lady. A resume of all love in her frail equipment—the mask, the cloak, the fan and the rose—until flitting about Don Juan are the ghosts of his thousand and three loves."

"Each one," the Devil tells him, "remaining shrouded in her shadow behind her fan, will draw for you in three words the portrait of her soul—and if you tell her name the mask will fall!"

Confidently Don Juan essays the task. One after the other the ghosts whisper a message in his ear. Not in a single instance does he guess correctly. The eyes, especially, both of him and the laugher.

"Because this evening," explains the Devil, "the eyes have their true expression—the expression they had when they were alone, and the laughter is that which they shared between themselves, but which no man ever heard!"

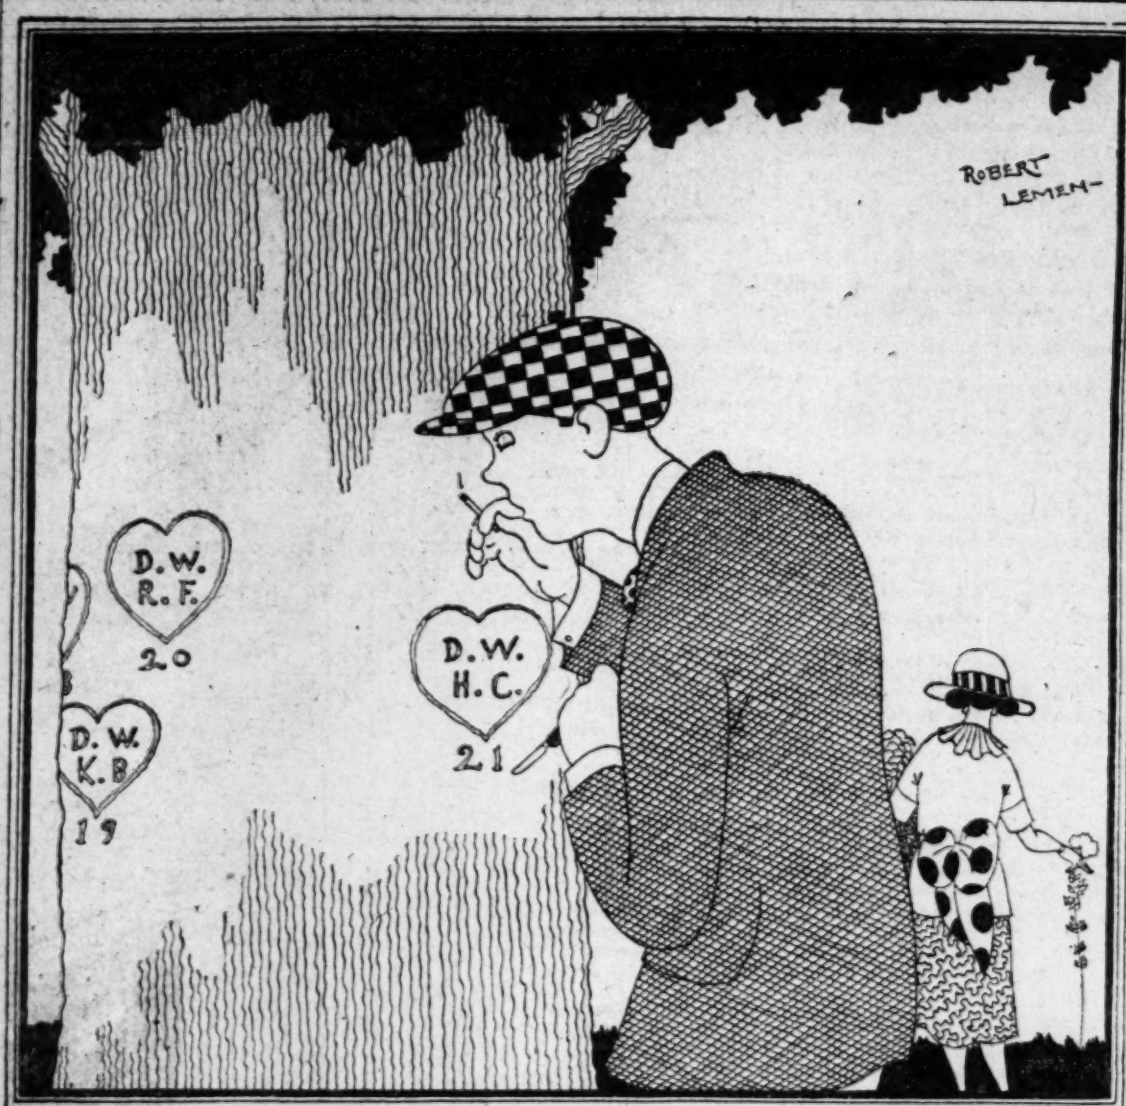

Paradoxically, the man who knew all about women pursues his quest; the curtain falls on a rushing, frantically, from one sheet to another, the silver candlesticks in his hand; at the beginning of the second and last act he still is searching—in vain—and day is about to break.

"Nevertheless, we loved each other," he exclaims.

"We might have loved each other," sigh the ghosts.

"You have seen nothing! You have heard nothing! You have had nothing!" the Devil's scathing summary.

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

For the second time since I had known Capt. Risdale he reddened clear to the tip-top of the jagged scar on his forehead.

Red-brown eyes deep in mine, he said hurriedly: "O, I'm a fearful dunder, butting into a very special party. I'll see both of you later." And he cut across the room as if seven demons in seven leagued boots were after him!

I was annoyed! Let him care for another girl if he liked, but let him not think I was going to marry Horace! Not I! But there was nothing I could have done to correct the impression.

I certainly could not have said, in mingling tones:

"I'm sure you think no girl could resist this masala-lamp solitaire and all it stands for, but you're quite wrong. I can and I have."

No, I could not have said anything like that. I could explain later—not that it mattered really.

"Please take me home," I said crossly to Horace. "And please let's not talk about it any more. I simply can't bear it."

"The Enigma," I saw by the following day's paper, was to go on tour "shortly" to Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago.

"That I shan't see him for at least six weeks."

I wondered if he would "speak" to Daphne before he went. He'd never think of me again, I was sure. Or if he did it would be as a girl who'd engaged herself to a smug young man who could afford to buy diamonds as big as eggs!

When I came flying in from church next Sunday morning I heard voices in our tiny "dressing room." Daphne's, with the special dove note she used to reserve for her Robin in the days gone by. And another, a deep, masculine one, with a trick of burring all his r's like a

Scott. That was Robin Wheeler's. I tip-toed to the door. Daphne, with quite the old look on her lovely face, was saying:

"I simply couldn't bear it, Robin. You must never make me jealous like that again."

And he, going rough shod over her left in the paragraph, was assuring her that she'd been frightfully mistaken about the whole affair; that he'd had a miserable year; and why hadn't she answered his frantic letters, etc., etc., etc.

I stole out, shutting the outer door softly. Never, never, in all my 21 years had I been so acutely wretched. Alone I was, incredibly alone, as blown by the bleak March wind, I turned in at the deserted peak drive.

Daphne and Robin would be as happy as possible. I was glad for her. But there I had been thinking it was all over; that Oliver and Daphne were "hitting it off" so beautifully.

Yes, I could bear to give him up to my sister; but to some other girl? No! He would not be too utterly miserable when he found it out.

As for me, there was no earthly use pretending I could be interested ever in anyone but this red-brown soldier with the honeyed voice. No, yes, trying to make myself believe that seeing him again was not the most important thing in the whole world.

But, of course, I should not. He would go away where there would be dozens of girls far prettier and cleverer than I. He would forget Joyce O'Connor had ever existed. When his play came back to New York, though, I should be gone. I could not bear it. I should go back to Albenham.

The furious March wind blew me giddily around a bend of the path into some shrubbery. As I stopped, breathless, to straighten my small gray hat, with its close veil, a firm hand closed round my free one, and a voice—The Voice—said:

"You do tear along at a great pace, don't you, young woman?"

"Oliver," I could only gasp, turning poppy red.

"Yes, it's Oliver, of course," said that pleased young gentleman, tucking my arm firmly into the crook of his and striking out bravely with his stick as he hurried me grandly along.

Did you think it was young what's-his-name of last night?" he wanted to know.

"You've been talking to Daphne," I accused him.

"Good Lord, I should say I have been talking to Daphne," he replied, rather violently. "I came trailing over, funeral faced, to offer my hearty good wishes (you'll notice I said 'hearty'), and your lovely sister tells me they're not in order."

(He didn't look like a man who'd got rather a bad jolt, as any man who'd been in love with Daphne would have got coming up to find her presenting: "My fiancé, Robin Wheeler.")

"What do you mean, young 'un, by blushing and bridling?" I cried, indignantly. "I couldn't help it if you jumped at absurd conclusions. And I do wish you wouldn't tease me about it!" (I'm afraid there was a sob in my voice at the last.)

"My dearest child," said my captain, drawing up in his mad pace, as it were, and turning the full battery of his chestnut orbs on me, "my dearest—argh—darling—child, I am not teasing. After consulting the Hebe who runs your lift as to the direction you'd taken I tore after you to be more serious than I've ever been in my life. I just wanted to humbly inquire if, having turned down young Croesus, you'd consider me. I am," he said, with a wicked look, "only an actor, as you know. And that's no job for any man!"

But aren't men silly, really? He'd been wanting to tell me for ages, but had been afraid it wasn't quite fair when Horace had "so much to offer."

So much to offer, indeed! You know the bromide every third play contains: "Nothing else matters, dear, but that we love each other. I used to laugh at it. I know now that it's true!"

Later he said: "Can't give you the sort of ring you refused last night. I'm sorry."

"That little circlet of blue stones you carry about—the one that used to be your mother's!" I cried, eagerly. "If you don't mind, I'd rather have that than any other ring in the world."

I'm wearing it now. Diamonds! Puff!

I know you'll think it was frightfully irrelevant, the way I've been out about being unlucky at cards. It wasn't really! Because, you see, I wanted to make the point that I'd so much rather be lucky in love!

The Twins Get Even With Peter Rabbit.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

It isn't nice; it isn't kind; 'Tis not at all the thing to do; But those who do not take a chance Of getting even are but few.

—Peter Rabbit

THIS is sad, but true. It is so everywhere in the Great World, and the Great World would be a much better place in which to live if it were not so. It is the desire to get even that makes much of the trouble and the heartache and the unhappiness everywhere. But there are times when getting even certainly does give a lot of satisfaction.

It was so with Buster Bear's twins, Buster and Wood-Nod.

You remember that the very first time they ventured out from under the great windfall deep in the Green Forest, where they had been born, Peter Rabbit had given them a great fright by thumping the ground with his hind feet, as only Peter can thump.

The twins were so small then, and they knew so little of the forest, that they had been so frightened that they had run to their mother, who had been so kind to them.

But it was a long time before they saw Peter again, and when they did they had grown so that they were considerably bigger than he. Besides, they had been out on several trips into the Great World with Mother Bear and had learned many things, for little Bears learn very fast and have the best of memories. But, at last, they saw Peter again. It happened this way:

Peter had stayed away from the Green Forest as long as he could. Then curiosity to see what was going on over there had been too much for him, and he had started over to visit Paddy the Beaver. He took great care to keep away from the great windfall, where Mrs. Bear and the twins lived, as Mrs. Bear was so angry with him that she was sure to take any chance.

But it was a long time before they saw Peter again, and when they did they had grown so that they were considerably bigger than he. =By James J. Montague:

LIVING WHILE WE LIVE

Andre Tridon, French psycho analyst, says that Americans are being hurried to their graves by corn beef and cabbage and mince pies.

Corn beef and cabbage—born to meet and mingle,
 Predestined from the earliest day of time
 To make the true born Yankee's palate tingle
 And titillate with ecstasy sublime!
 Corn beef and cabbage—when the words are spoken
 The son of this Republic licks his lip,
 And never shall he suffer to be broken
 That classic culinary partnership!

We all must die, and who would lift a finger
To live beyond his time, or who would wish
Upon the stage superfluous to linger
Too frail to eat his country's noblest dish?
What though these twain—partaken of together,
Our rugged constitutions undermine
And prematurely part our vital tether,
At least while they are blent we live—and dine!

They scent the air from Tampa to Seattle,
From Portland, Me., to San Diego Bay,
When knives and forks and dishes blithely rattle
And dinner's in the middle of the day.
And when they're served, delighted diners greet them
With grateful cries, and shoutings and acclaim
And presently they fall upon and eat them
And hasten forth to larger life and fame.

Corn beef and cabbage—never shall disquiet
Or apprehension stir within my breast,
E'en though I know that such a solid diet
May speed the day I take my final rest.
For me, at least these two shall never sever
For, though I'm in no frantic rush to die,
I haven't any hope to live forever.
Corn beef and cabbage, waiter! Then mince pie
